SPONSORSHIP PROPOSAL

WWW.NZSSS.SCIENCE.ORG.NZ/CONFERENCE

Kia ora koutou,

The 2026 conference of the New Zealand Society of Soil Science will bring together leading researchers, land managers, industry professionals, and policy makers in Christchurch from 30 November to 3 December 2026, and will centre on the theme “Building Resilient Futures for Soils.” As you know, healthy soils underpin food production, water quality, climate resilience, and ecosystem health. The programme will highlight the vital role of how we manage soils to achieve the goals of resilient productive landscapes, healthy ecosystems, and enduring communities.

We invite you to partner with us in supporting this important event. The highly productive Canterbury Plains support diverse agricultural systems, where effective soil management is essential for productivity, water quality, and climate resilience. Canterbury/Waitaha is also home to an internationally renowned research and innovation hub, hosting leading land-based researchers at Lincoln University, University of Canterbury, and the Bioeconomy Science Institute – Maiangi Taiao.

The conference will welcome presentations on a wide range of topics including soil biodiversity; applied soil management; responses to extreme climate events; integrating land management practices and water quality; regenerative soil management; mātauranga Māori; soil science and policy; technology, the emergence and impacts of GenAI and sensor technologies; urban soil management; and the links between soils and human health.

Sponsoring this conference provides you with a valuable opportunity to engage directly with the soil science community and a broad network of professionals working across agriculture; environment; research and technology. Your support will help foster knowledge exchange, encourage collaboration, and advance the science and practice needed to ensure resilient soils for future generations. Sponsorship also provides an excellent platform to showcase your organisation's commitment to sustainable land management and kaitiakitanga.

This year we will also be holding our successful Soil Judging Competition. Held over the weekend prior to the main conference, this internationally recognized training and professional development event provides aspiring and experienced soil practitioners the opportunity to develop professional skills in soil profile identification and land use interpretation. It is an additional opportunity to promote your organisation while supporting valuable training and networking opportunities for emerging soil science professionals.
